Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) in India and Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)

Education is the foundation of national progress and social transformation and plays a vital role in the socio-economic development of any country. Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) in India have always been considered the key to the knowledge creation, skill development and innovation. With the adoption of the United Nations' Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in 2015, higher education in India has undergone a progressive change, aligning academic, research and outreach efforts towards achieving the SDGs by 2030.

Higher education institutions directly contribute to SDG 4, which ensures Quality Education and focuses on providing inclusive and equitable quality education as well as promoting lifelong learning opportunities for all. India's educational policies and initiatives are closely aligned with this global goal. The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 provides a visionary framework to transform education. Digital learning platforms such as SWAYAM, DIKSHA and PM e-Vidya have further widened access.

Through curriculum design, research, and community engagement, HEIs influence nearly all other SDGs. It reduces poverty (SDG 1), promotes health and well-being (SDG 3), and ensures gender equality (SDG 5) by encouraging women's participation in higher education, research, and leadership roles, thereby supporting gender-sensitive policies. By producing skilled graduates and entrepreneurs, HEIs foster employment and innovation, thereby promoting economic growth (SDG 8).

However, several challenges remain. Learning outcomes in basic literacy and numeracy are still below desired levels. Dropout rates in secondary and higher education continue to be high, particularly among rural and disadvantaged groups. Unequal access to higher education, especially in rural and backward areas, limits inclusivity. Inadequate infrastructure and shortage of trained teachers also hinder progress. To fully realize these goals, India must focus on improving quality, ensuring inclusion and increasing investment in the education sector.

In conclusion, Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) in the country hold immense potential to drive the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) through education, research, and innovation. By ensuring equitable, skill-based and value-oriented education for all, these institutions can prepare responsible citizens and future leaders who can build a more inclusive, equitable and sustainable India by 2030.

UNESCO Releases Global Report on Digital Education

UNESCO has released the Global Education Monitoring (GEM) Report 2025, which highlights that digital education and online learning are expanding rapidly worldwide. However, the report also points out that students in rural and underprivileged regions still do not have equal access to digital learning opportunities.

The report recommends that to strengthen digital education globally, countries must focus on affordable internet access, digital skills training, and teacher capacity-building in technology-enhanced learning.

Teachers or Staff Found Consuming Tobacco on School Premises to Face Penalty — New Guidelines Issued by School Education & Literacy Department

Ranchi | State Correspondent

The School Education and Literacy Department has issued fresh guidelines to ensure all educational institutions in the state remain completely tobacco-free zones. As per the new order, if any teacher or school employee is found consuming tobacco within the school premises, strict action will be taken along with a monetary penalty.

According to the guidelines, a 100-meter radius around all schools will be declared a 'Tobacco-Free Zone', and no sale or consumption of tobacco or gutka will be allowed in this area. Boards displaying "Tobacco-Free Educational Institution" and "No-Smoking Zone" will be mandatory in every school.

Police Will Now Conduct Raids Outside Schools, Colleges, and Coaching Centers

Beyond schools, the department has also emphasized that police teams will regularly conduct checks near schools, colleges, and coaching centers. This step aims to curb the increasing presence of tobacco users and sellers near educational institutions.

The government believes the presence of tobacco vendors around campuses contributes to students adopting harmful habits. To combat this, surprise inspections and strict legal action will now be enforced.

Focus on Student Safety and Preventing Addiction

The order highlights that tobacco addiction among children and youth has been rising. Teachers, being role models, must maintain discipline and set the right example. Strict adherence to the guidelines is expected from all teaching and non-teaching staff.

Under the directive:

- Any violation by school staff will result in a fine,
- Schools must install CCTV cameras to monitor tobacco-related activities,
- Awareness campaigns will be launched among students.

Steps to Be Implemented by All Schools

- Display of "Tobacco-Free Institution" boards on every campus.
- 100-meter radius around every school will be a strict no-tobacco zone.
- Schools must form a Tobacco-Free Monitoring Committee, including teachers, students, and community members.
- Immediate reporting of violators to the department and police.

The department aims to safeguard the health and future of students and promote a clean, addiction-free environment in all educational institutions across the state.

Motivational Poem

Rise, dear mind, and chase the light,
For every dream begins in sight.
Step by step and day by day,
Your efforts carve a brighter way.

Don't fear the storms that come to you,
They shape your strength, they make you new.
Each challenge holds a hidden key,
Unlocking who you're meant to be.

Believe in what your heart can do,
The world awaits the best of you.
Keep learning, growing, reaching high,
Your wings will spread across the sky.

Success is not a sudden flight,
It's built with courage, built with might.
So walk with hope, keep moving on—
Your journey's just begun, be strong.

Artificial Intelligence in Modern Education: A New Path for Future Teaching

Artificial Intelligence (AI) is transforming the landscape of education across the world, and teacher-training institutions like ours are at the core of this change. Today, AI is not just a technological trend—it is becoming an essential tool for enhancing teaching efficiency, improving learning outcomes, and preparing future educators.

1. AI as a Teaching Support System

AI-based tools such as digital teaching assistants, automated lesson planners, and smart content generators help teachers save time and focus more on interactive learning. These tools assist educators in preparing engaging lessons and reducing repetitive tasks.

2. Personalized Learning for Students

AI enables personalized learning experiences by analyzing students' learning patterns. It recommends suitable study material, identifies learning gaps, and supports slow or advanced learners with tailor-made resources.

3. Enhancing Classroom Engagement

Interactive AI tools—including smart quizzes, virtual simulations, and voice-enabled learning platforms—make classroom teaching more dynamic and engaging. This helps teacher trainees understand innovative methods of pedagogy.

4. AI in Assessment and Evaluation

Modern AI tools can evaluate assignments, generate reports, and provide instant feedback. This improves transparency and reduces the workload of teachers, enabling more accurate competency-based assessments.

5. Preparing Future Educators for an AI-Integrated World

As a B.Ed college, it is essential that our trainees become competent in AI-driven teaching methods. Understanding AI tools, digital pedagogy, and smart classroom technology will empower future teachers to excel in modern schools.

Conclusion

Artificial Intelligence is not a replacement for teachers—rather, it is a powerful partner that enhances teaching quality and student learning. Through AI-enabled teaching practices, our college aims to prepare future educators who are technologically confident, creative, and ready to lead the classrooms of tomorrow.

Nature is the best teacher because it provides us with countless lessons that we can learn from. From the changing seasons to the diversity of plants and animals life, nature teaches us that adaptation, resilience, interconnectedness. One of the most important lessons that nature teaches us that the important of balance. In nature everything is interconnected and relies on each other to thrive. This teaches us the importance of working together and respecting the environment around us.

Nature also teaches us about patience and prelevevance. Just like a seed that takes time to grow into a tree, we too must be patient and persistant in our own growth and development. Furthermore nature teaches us to a appreciate the beauty and wonder of the world around us.

कविता

वो बचपन

यूँ ही हर बात पे हँसने का बहाना आए
फिर वो मासूम सा बचपन का ज़माना आए।

काश लौटें मेरे पापा भी खिलौने ले कर
काश फिर से मेरे हाथों में खजाना आए।

काश दुनिया की भी फ़ितरत हो मेरी माँ जैसी
जब मैं बिन बात के रूठे तो मनाना आए।

हम को कुदरत ही सिखा देती है कितनी बातें
काश उस्तादों को कुदरत सा पढ़ाना आए।

आह अच्छा कभी स्कूल से छुट्टी जो मिले
चीख कर बच्चों का वो शोर मचाना आए।

आज बचपन कहीं बस्तों में ही उलझा है 'अज़ान'
फिर वो तितली को पकड़ना वो उड़ाना आए।
